Mission

To bring neighborhood people together from diverse cultures by providing creative experiences in the arts with children and families to develop the gifts of self-expression and community.

Providing Life-Changing Encouragement

For over six decades Dick Pendleton was a legendary jazz clarinetist in the Twins Cities.

Dick was a life-long member of Calvary Lutheran Church, at the corner of 39th and Chicago in south Minneapolis, just a few blocks from his home. When Dick died in 1999, he left the bulk of his estate to Calvary. In honor of Dick, the church was instrumental in the founding of the Urban Arts Academy in 2001. In order to serve the entire neighborhood, Urban Arts Academy chose to become a non faith-based program.

Dick's Jazz Club is the name for the folks who believe in and support the work of Urban Arts. You are cordially invited to join others who are committed to:

- Making a difference in the lives of urban children
- Supporting and encouraging students in their creative expression through the arts
- Helping develop the potential of children who may be at risk

The Urban Arts Academy believes that every child should have a place to create, explore and invent new ways of doing things. Through its staff, volunteers and programs, Urban Arts invests in the lives of kids in the neighborhood to build life-long thinkers and learners.

Programs to Guide Children

After-School Arts & Education

During the school year, elementary and middle school students come together with artists from a variety of expressive mediums to learn, create and perform. Students also receive homework support in math skills.

Preschool Arts

3 to 5 year old children gather five days a week for creative, open-ended arts experiences that help build their literacy and math skills. Both half-day and full-day are offered.

Summer Arts Camps

Summer vacation offers the perfect time for elementary and preschool students to enjoy dance, music, art and other expressive mediums.

Guiding Principles

We believe in kids! We like kids! We are a place where they can build, explore, create and most of all have fun.

We believe teaching artists plus staff and volunteers are the key to building supportive relationships with the students.

We believe in using music and arts as a bridge and a means to challenge, create, explore and learn from one another.

We believe in giving our students the tools they need to succeed in school and in life, such as offering academic tutoring.

We believe in respecting that which makes each of us a unique person.

We believe in art and its power to change the world.
